VICTORIA INDUSTRIES.

The Brewing of Beer, Ales, &c. ---Lowen & Erb's Establishment.

Description of the Phœnix Brewery and the Vancouver Brewery.

The breweries of Victoria are numerous and form a very important item in the industries of the city. To the lovers of a glass of pure, sparkling ale, and to those who advocate the precepts of taste not, touch not, handle not, a walk round and a little talk about brewers and brewing will be of interest. We will begin with the oldest and end with the youngest, so that there may be no ill-feeling. It being found impossible to be everywhere at once a commencement had to be made somewhere, accordingly we found ourselves at the corner of Government and Discovery streets, Messrs. Lowen & Erb, proprietors, established in 1858. Besides being the oldest the Victoria Brewery is also the most extensive within the city limits. The premises occupy three lots on which are erected buildings necessary for the carrying on of the business, brew-house malt kiln, etc. The great foundation of beer is barley; next comes in importance the water. The latter it is acknowledged has a great influence on the quality of beer. None can turn out stout equal to James Gate, Dublin, or ale like Burton on Trent Hops are looked to for the flavor. In the foregoing three great factors necessary to produce beer, our island can boast that two out of the three are of native production, i. e., the water and the hops. As yet we have to look to the outside world for the principal ingredient, barley. It is pleasing to have it to state that a trial is about to be given to the malt raised and manufactured on our western prairies, instead of importing them from San Francisco. The plump bright barley of the famous Red River Valley, has swept everything before it for malting purposes, and although owing to freight rates the price per pound will exceed that of the foreign imported article, yet the excellence and superior quality of the Manitoba barley will in the long run make it the cheaper article to us. In the malting house we saw the vats for steeping the barley, the floors for spreading, and the kiln for drying, but alas all were idle so far as their legitimate use were concerned. Malting was tried in Victoria; suffice it to say it failed. What was the cause? Want of patronage and mayhap jealousy. Be that as it may the supply of malt necessary to manufacture the large quantity of beer required to fill the mug of B. C. has to be imported at present. In an adjoining room we were shown the malt, and an examination of that from Manitoba and San Francisco gave a decided advantage to the former over the latter. An engine of some 15 horse power is used for grinding the malt, pumping the beer and water, and also for sawing cord wood. The boiling vats are large and everything about the premises appear clean and orderly. In the extensive cellars were seen the stock, larger casks holding 500 gals. each, bottling arrangements, &c. The conveniences and arrangements of the Victoria Brewery seemed as far as practicable perfect. The capacity of the vats is some 6000 barrels annually, and the quantity turned out last year was some 4000 barrels. The Victoria Brewery turns out an article of beer, lager, ale, &c., well known to consumers, not only in this city, but throughout the province, for quality and excellence stands unrivalled. The extensive patronage its ales and beer receive, and the numerous diplomas and medals shown as to merit and excellence of the article, places that matter beyond dispute, the mode of brewing adopted here being the German principally and English for ales. There are six hands constantly employed; no Chinese. In the cooper's shop were seen kegs and barrels made of native island pine, and this very important branch in connection with brewing business is likely to be confined for the future to the use of the native wood, in construction in preference to imported oak. The pine so far as ascertained imparts no taste of flavor to the beer. In value the output of last year realized over $50,000. Trade was steadily on the increase, although the consumption had fallen off greatly owing chiefly to the completion of the C. P. R. We found both partners in the firm the pink of kindness and courtesy, and a chat with Mr. Erb about Fatherland, the Rhine and the rich valleys of the Danube, Francis Joseph and his dashing Empress over a glass of the splendid sparkling ale as manufactured at the Victoria, made a visit to one of the city's oldest industries both agreeable and pleasant.

THE PHOENIX BREWERY,

C. Gowen & Sons, proprietors, is on the corner of Yates and Blanchard streets. This brewery occupies premises 60x110, three stories including large cellars. The system of brewing is that of the English mash and German fermenting, and the English sparkling ales and double brown stout of C. Gowen & Sons stands unrivalled amongst the provincial breweries. Medals and diplomas were seen testifying as to excellence and quality. The very best proof, however, is that Her Majesty's naval purveyor on this station has awarded the contract to C. Gowen & Sons, for the supply of stout to the naval hospitals and ships for medicinal purposes, and the importation of Guinesses XXX as far as British Columbia is concerned for naval medicinal purposes has become a thing of the past. The capacity of the vats is 5,000 barrels annually and there is turned out some 3,000 barrels in bottles and casks. Gowen's ale and porter find their way far into the interior, and the export to outside points is large and increasing. Material used is the same as the supply of the Victoria, in hops and malt. The Manitoba malt will receive a fair trial on receipt of sample. The hops are equal to the best English as affirmed by Mr. Gowen, Sr., an old English brewer and the oldest in Victoria. Mr. Gowen started the Victoria brewery some thirty years ago, sold out, tried Cariboo, returned to Victoria and some ten years ago started the Phœnix. The business is however principally carried on by his sons, Mr. C. N. Gowen in the brew house amongst the vats and hops and malt, while his brother, Mr. G. Gowen, attends to the outside business and trade generally. We found Mr. C. N. Gowen, kind, courteous and willing to impart every information required, also very ready to talk baseball, which seems to be combined and mashed up in this establishment with malt, hops, casks, bottles and cordwood.

THE VANCOUVER BREWERY,

Carter Bros., proprietors, corner of Herald and Government streets, comes next in order. The premises occupy a large plot of ground and are well suited for the brewing business. The capacity of the vats is about 4000 lbs., and the turn out some 3000 lbs. annually. The quality of the articles of beer, sparkling ales, English pale ale, and porter and stout manufactured by Carter Bros., is well known. The usual medals and diplomas were exhibited—are they not on the well gotten up labels? This concern uses 'Frisco malt, but will try Winnipeg, hops from Mr. J. J. Downey, Saanich. In the large cellars we were introduced to casks holding 112 Imp. gallons. Here the large bottling business of the firm was going on. A long talk about the various systems of bottling, &c., by which Mr. Carter proved much against our will the advantages of the system here adopted. It has one great advantage, however; it is quick in bringing the beer to the desired ripeness. Casks made from island pine were highly spoken of. There are four hands employed constant. We found Mr. Carter, who is an Eastern Canadian, a live man, well posted in his business and fully alive to the tricks of the trade, and other dodges in order to overcome prejudices. The firm exports largely up the line of the C. P. R., and a letter was shown from Oregon asking for a sample shipment of Carter's sparkling ales. The annual output is some $30,000.

One thing consumers of beer manufactured in Victoria may rest assured of, and that is that so far all ingredients used are pure and legitimate. The absence of sugar and chemicals have been repudiated by the various manufacturers, and Victoria can boast of pure ales, beer and porters.

CONFIRMED THE SITE.

Medical Gentlemen and the Public Protest in Vain.

Twenty-eight members of the Jubilee Hospital committee met in the Board of Trade rooms yesterday to discuss the report submitted to the building committee at last meeting, which suggested a change of site and a modification of the plans. Mr. T. R. Smith occupied the chair in the absence of President McLean.

A communication was read from the provincial government, suggesting that Dr. Davie and W. S. Gore, Surveyor-General, be appointed to the building committee. The request was complied with.

Mr. Robert Ward suggested that the names of Mr. Justice Crease and R. P. Rithet be also added to the building committee.

Mr. W. B. Pearse thought a mistake had been made in selecting Cadboro Bay site, and moved in amendment that the site be reconsidered.

Mr. J. S. Yates thought the general committee should decide as to the site as it was insinuated that the matter had been dealt with in a hole and corner way.

Mr. D. W. Higgins understood that the question of site had been decided several months ago. He did not think the present meeting had any right to pull to pieces the work previously transacted.

Mr. R. P. Rithet said the best way to do was to refer the matter back to the building committee. The feeling in Victoria would be greatly averse to any wooden structure.

After further discussion, Dr. Helmcken said that their instructions had been to cut down the plans—they had no instructions as to the kind of hospital wanted. If the report were sent back, it would be necessary to instruct them as to what plans they required. If they determined on a plan, they should state whether brick or stone. With regard to the site they admitted that it was not submitted to them, but they felt it but right that they should express their opinion as to where the building should be placed. They felt sure that the site the committee had chosen, the site on Cadboro Bay road, was chosen because they could get no other. If they could not get another, they should retain the old one. He was quite certain now that they could get another site, on Spring Ridge, and he thought they should secure it. They had expressed their opinion as to the site because they would not take the responsibility. If the committee desired to do so they might.

Mr. Higgins' amendment that the report be taken up clause by clause, was put and carried by 15 to 13.

Mr. Ward said that he had heard several rumors that some of the gentlemen who formed the committee had already bonded land for hospital purposes. He trusted if any were here to-day they would have the conscience to refrain from voting on this resolution.

Mr. Smith said that he could bear Mr. Ward out in the statement that such rumors were afloat.

An amendment, that the site question be taken up first, was lost.

Mr. Redfern offered a resolution that the plans submitted at the last meeting be adopted and the building erected of wood and stone.

After further discussion it was moved by Mr. W. C. Ward, seconded by Mr. R. P. Rithet, that the building be constructed of brick and stone upon plans to be approved by the building committee, at a cost not exceeding $40,000, such plans to be based upon the doctors' committees' report as closely as possible; the former resolution limiting expenditure to $35,000 to be rescinded. This was carried unanimously.

Mr. Yates moved that the question of site be submitted to a committee of physicians, who, if they could not find a suitable site, the present Cadboro Bay site should be retained.

Mr. Edwin Johnson said he thought if the present site was retained it would kill the whole scheme.

Mr. W. C. Ward said that the present site was in the hands of trustees and could not be sold.

An amendment moved by Mr Higgins confirming the present site was carried by a vote of 14 to 12 which stood as follows:

Ayes—D W Higgins, W C Ward, Robt Ward, James Fell, W Heathorn, A A Green, E A McQuade, A Wilson, W H Ellis, Geo Byrnes, Joshua Davies, R P Rithet, A R Smith, W Chudley.

Noes—Senator McDonald, Edwin Johnson, C E Redfern, Capt Warren, J S Yates, D M Eberts, H F Heisterman, B W Pearse, Dr Helmcken, Dr Davie, Chas Hayward.

On motion of Mr Robert Ward, Messrs. R P Rithet and E A McQuade were added to the building committee.

After reading some correspondence with the government the meeting adjourned.

THE MENZIES CASE.

Arrest of Mrs. Crawford—Menzies Again in Gaol.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford was this morning arrested by Sergt. Sheppard, and will be made a party with the prisoner Menzies on the most serious of the three charges. The lady was very indignant and asked to be allowed out on bail. His Honor took her recognizance in the sum of $50. Whilst His Honor was making out the bail bond Mrs. Crawford kept up a conversation stating that she saw Mr. Starr in court. She wanted him to understand that she was a Methodist and had been a Christian. His Honor need not be alarmed, she was a woman and had only her character to support her. After expressing a determination to appear to-morrow she proudly walked out of court.

Menzies is again behind the prison bars, his bail not having been renewed yesterday.

The case is developing very rapidly, but the end is not yet and we refrain from comment.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Lacrosse Game Yesterday--Victoria Lead the Van.

The lacrosse match between Vancouver and Victoria had evidently been looked forward to with interest by Victorians judging from the large number of people who assembled at the "Hill" yesterday afternoon, the fair sex being well represented. At 4:05 p. m. the teams lined up in the following order:

VICTORIANS.	POSITIONS.	VANCOUVERS.
W H Cullin	Goal	J Bingham
J White	Point	A E Suckling
A H Wade	Cover Point	J Smith
W J Ledingham	Defense	A Godfrey
T Cusack	Defense	E Murphy
J P Hibbon	Field	W J Greer
R Clarke	Center	W W Law
C Tite	Home	E McDougall
J Cox	Field	W Bonithon
A Kenning	Field	J B Simpson
D W Morrow	Outside Home	D Smith
W Clarke	Inside Home	P Wade

FIRST GAME.

R. Clarke and Law faced the rubber, Clarke securing it passed it down to the Vancouver flags where Suckling came out best man in the scrimmage that ensued. He made a magnificent long throw to the Victoria flags but Whyte and Wade were too many for the Vancouver home, who made a plucky but futile effort to score a game, Simpson, D. Smith and Law doing some good team plays; but withal Whyte, Wade and Cullin held them down to hard work, Whyte even making nine pins out of them. The rubber was thrown down to the Vancouver flags and it was again passed up to centre field by Suckling, but was returned by R. Clarke in the scuffle. W. Clark had his work cut out for him by his check, but he played a plucky, determined and excellent game. Kenning secured the rubber and passed it to Morrow who made a clean shot through the Vancouver flags; time, about one hour.

SECOND GAME.

After ten minutes rest had been taken the teams again went together, the Vancouver men, judging from appearances, determined to get their work in, but Whyte and his supporters were never "too slow" and just a little "too swift." Cullin, as usual, thwarted their games and made some excellent throws to Vancouver flags. Wade coming down the field with the ball he passed it to Morrow who passed it through the goal again for Victoria; time, twenty minutes.

THIRD GAME.

An understanding having been arrived at between Morrow and Suckling to play for a certain length of time, there only remained about twenty minutes to play out the third game. When work commenced the Vancouver team did their best, which is saying a good deal, to secure a game, but the Victoria boys wanted a big victory or none, and when the 20 minutes had expired the referee called "time" and awarded the match to Victoria, complimenting both teams on the gentlemanly manner in which the game was conducted. Three cheers and a "tiger" were given for each team, the referee and umpires, after which the teams left the field.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Had the Victoria team their full strength they think now they would have taken three straights, Mackenzie, Tite and Rae being off. Had they lost the match this time it would not have been a great surprise.

Whyte of Victoria and Suckling of Vancouver seemed to be a whole team in themselves.

The Vancouver boys took their defeat in good humor and said they would soon have another go at the Victorians and redeem themselves.

The Victoria home seemed somewhat mixed at times but this was attributable to Kenning and Morrow having to play team game with scarcely any assistance, Geo Tite not being able to play and his substitute not understanding the team play sufficiently.

The national game is undoubtedly growing more popular every day in this city and the enthusiasm and applause as seen yesterday was almost unbounded.

Mr. J. A. Wilson made a fair and impartial referee.

Messrs. McEachern and E. M. Wood acted as umpires.

Messrs. Skene Howe and E. J. McFeeley were field captains. Howe is a good man, thoroughly understanding the coaching of the Victoria team, and great credit is due him. Mr. McFeeley is not so old a lacrosse player, but did his part well.

LEADS THE VAN.

Victoria, in a sporting sense, leads the van in the province, and we can now claim to be the champions at cricket, lacrosse, football and baseball. Let the good work go on.

THE CRICKET MATCH.

Yesterday wickets were pitched at 11 o'clock, and Victoria went to the bat, and before the last wicket fell scored 264 runs of which Ransom made 73 and Sinclair 67. In their first innings Vancouver only placed 86 to their credit, of which Townley secured 26 and Elwood 24. In their 2nd innings three wickets had fallen for 50 runs, when time was called. The TIMES endeavored to obtain the score, but only one man had it, and he couldn't be found.

For Alaska.

The steamship Idaho left the outer wharf at noon to-day for the north. She will load at Departure Bay several hundred tons of coal as freight, besides having a considerable freight list from Portland, Port Townsend and Victoria. Some 60 tourists proceed on her to enjoy the sights in the land of the midnight sun, Indians, curios, immense glaciers and the finest inland navigation to be found in the world. Alaska is becoming year by year more favorable known as a desirable summer resort. The owners of this line will be compelled to increase during the summer months their passenger accommodating capacity, as even now, with three ships on the line per month, all applying cannot be supplied with births.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE.

It is stated, as a remarkable fact, in connection with the reduction of post office salaries, that the representatives of Victoria city—Messrs. BAKER and SHAKESPEARE—were the first members of the House who ever gave their assent to the cheese-paring economy which is now being practiced on the post office employees. A few years ago the salary or allowance of the late postmaster, Mr. ROBERT WALLACE, was considerably reduced, and our then representatives were not only suspected of having tacitly consented but were believed to have suggested to the Government the propriety of punishing Mr. ROBERT WALLACE, because that gentleman had exercised his discretion and shown an independence of the "members," when making appointments on the working staff of the office. Having entered the thin end of the wedge then our representatives are not now in a position to say to the government that the reduction of the clerks' salaries is unjust, for if it was right that an old servant should suffer through the splenetic humor of those who dispensed the patronage of the city, it cannot be far wrong to continue the policy of retrenchment thus so unworthily introduced. Mr. WALLACE believed, when appointing clerks, thought he should have some regard to their fitness for responsible positions, and could not always accept the nominees of Messrs. BAKER & SHAKESPEARE. He received his punishment as above stated and finally was superannuated to make room for one of the representatives, who is now witnessing the bad effects of the policy then inaugurated.

GENERAL SHERIDAN.

Another of the heroes of the American civil war, General Philip Henry Sheridan, passed away yesterday after a lingering illness of several months. Sheridan was a soldier all his life, having received a military training at West Point, but the opportunity to develop his great natural abilities did not present themselves until 1862, about a year after the first shot was fired at Fort Sumter. Born in Ohio in 1831, the General was 57 years of age, not an old man by any means. Next to Grant and Sherman, Sheridan was the most popular and the ablest military commander among the many able men which the great struggle called to the front. A dashing cavalry officer, he was immortalized by Reid's famous poem, and the immense popularity which he then acquired he has retained unbroken to the end. The union owes a debt of gratitude to its noble dead, and to the credit of that great nation it can be said it has seldom failed to meet its obligations.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

Lord ROSEBERY, writing to Mr. C. S. CAHAN, secretary of the Halifax branch of the Imperial Federation League, says:

38 Berkley-square, July 10, 1888.

SIR,—I am very sorry to say that I have been compelled to give up the idea of visiting Canada this year, consequently I cannot have the pleasure of accepting your invitation.

With regard to the utterances of Mr. Bright in reference to Canada, I think you must admit that they are isolate, and have not received the slightest support from public opinion here. I trust therefore they will not have any effect on your consideration of the great question, which, as you say, now lies before us. On the other hand I would point out utterances of countless members of parliament and leaders of public opinion in Great Britain, sympathizing warmly with colonial aspirations and with every effort for drawing closer the ties which unite the mother country and her colonies, without impairing free local autonomy.

You say that there is an impression abroad in Canada that Imperial Federation is essentially a Tory project; if so, the case is very different there from the state of things in England, where Imperial Federation receives the support of, I think, the great mass of the Liberal party—I should say the universal support were it not that some of the older school of Liberalism have perhaps doubts of the practicability of the scheme.

It is a delicate matter to write about, but I strongly suspect it would be found that the Imperial Federation League in England counts not less Liberals than Conservatives, and though we are desirous to maintain it entirely as a non-political question, I cannot allow the Liberal party to be excluded from the share of this great policy. ROSEBERY.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The bucket shop proprietors and frequenters have been fined $100 and $50 respectively, at Toronto. Serves them right, for their game was only a trifle more respectable than three-card monte.

Sir John is visiting the lower provinces and it is said has gained 10 pounds in weight during the last few weeks. To his political enemies it is almost exasperating to observe the coolness with which the veteran continues to enjoy a holiday and to add the adipose tissue notwithstanding all his difficulties.

Ottawa paper: Mr. Haggart's elevation to the Cabinet is acknowledged to be due to his opposition to the appointment of Mr. Dewdney, and his threat to organize a "bolt" if that gentleman was made a minister. To head off the threatened cabal Sir John Macdonald has made Mr. Haggart a minister at the same time that he takes Mr. Dewdney in.

Mr. Dewdney, who will have to obtain a seat in the House now that he is a minister, was recommended to the Cardwell tories, but they would have nothing to do with him. The Liberal and Independent Conservative press condemn Mr. Dewdney's appointment and even the Montreal Gazette admits that the impression prevails that he was responsible for the rebellion on the Saskatchewan.

The new Lieutenant-Governor of the North West Territories, the Hon. Joseph Royal, has successfully carried on the avocations of a journalist, lawyer, soldier and politician. He started life in Canada in the first capacity in 1857, when, being then in his twenty-first year, he edited the Minerve of Montreal. Other French journals in Lower Canada came under his control during the succeeding years, until 1871 he removed to Manitoba, was called to the Bar of the Province, and established the French-Canadian journal which is now known as Le Manitoba. In the same year he was elected Speaker of the first Legislative Assembly of Manitoba, combining with that position the command of a cavalry troop which did service at the time of the Fenian raid. From that date he held various offices in the local Ministry until 1878, when he resigned, having, in the meantime, exerted himself, with great advantage to the Province, in the cause of education, and in other movements of importance. He was first elected to a seat in the Dominion Parliament in 1879, as representative for Provencher, for which constituency he was again returned in 1882 and 1887.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

The P. O. Strike—A Telegram—Cricket—Churches, &c.

The P. O. men did not strike after all! Well, they ought to have done so. A good "rattaning" would have done the institution a heap of good. We would have our Shakespeare saying: "Lay on, Macduff, and damned be he who first cries hold! Enough!" Starvation wages and a shabby genteel appearance, penny Pickwicks for Barney's best Havanas, to bunting up the Arm, they, as government employees, would be sorry fellows, indeed. The thing would be intolerable. Their friend, the Colonist, need not be calling down the wrath of imagination on our parliamentary representatives. B. C. M. P's go to Ottawa solely on their own account—nobody else's. This the Colonist ought to know without being told. What care Victoria's representatives? They only go in for titles and honors, and would not deign to look at anything pertaining to filthy lucre. Individual selfishness is bad enough, but public selfishness in neglecting the interests of the people can't be too strongly censured. The suggestion in Saturday's TIMES of holding a public meeting would, if adopted, soon make its weight felt at Ottawa; as will appear from the tone of the following telegram received early this morning:

To the Town Major, Victoria:

DEAR MAJOR—You mustn't be surprised re-P. O. men. Done on purpose by me; will show your members in true light. They have life and soul bothered out of me. Made one a Colonel lately—promised the other a Senatorship; they are satisfied. The people's interest can go to grass for all they care. Get up public meeting. Pluck the Crow. Your Colonel's away. Pitch into them and that local government. The Hon. John—they say it takes nine tailors to make a man—one tailor made a politician of him. What else can be expected from a government railway paymaster? He's boodle and cabbage all over; can't help it. I'll make them foot the Skeena bill. They get enough out of old Mrs. Canada as it is. I must look after her interests a little more than I did. Get up the indig. meeting and wire me. Tell your P. O. men it's all O. K. JOHN A.

Ottawa, 5th Aug., 1888.

The foregoing speaks volumes and will receive proper attention from The Major. You see it's hand and glove we are; like Senator Perley, it is "Sir John, sez I, me an you will build the railway, sez I." Too much familiarity breeds contempt, and people must be kept at a distance. Well, Sir John is not a bad fellow; he used to take his whiskey straight without a wrinkle in his nose, but then he's converted now. If Sir John only had Ned Farrar and Davin to keep him countenance, it would appear more comfortable like. Let us hope the Right Honorable gentleman is at last converted to the opinion that the B. C. local government, like Norquay's in Manitoba, will, if permitted to pursue its extravagant, rotten, deceiving course regarding matters here, and the selfish neglect of the public interests by the representatives of the people, only result in disaster to the party.

The modern parody on the Olympian games attracted a goodly crowd to Beacon Hill yesterday. During the forenoon, and also in the afternoon, the interest manifested by the general public in the cricket contest between the Victoria elite and the rude, wild men from the shores of Burrard Inlet, was not, in the Major's humble opinion, what it ought to have been. "But then you know," as one lady expressed it, "everybody is away; there is nobody in Victoria; very dull indeed, although the summer is beautiful, no picnics. Oh! dear, its really dreadful." The Major took his hook to a more genial clime of the roaring, romping, jolly lacrosse boys. To measure the crowd by the Major's bushel, there was positively "nobody" admiring the cricketers while the lacrosse had the countenance of our old and young, youth and beauty. Here might be seen our young Victoria, its beauty escorted by chivalry, hoary headed masters and staid professors. Old Pan and Tubal Kain followers and students were there, and all quiet, jolly and good humored, laughing and talking. The enthusiastic crowd, the gay uniforms of the contestants, the rough, good-natured ups and downs of the game, was like coming from a funeral to a country fair. The rude frontier cricketers from Vancouver, although lead by their "man of God" did not prevail against the dwellers of our Jerusalem. Ransom's 73 was hard to beat. The Vancouverites are good on the stump, no thanks to them. One thing, they are gentle. The Major would like to know why our national aboriginal game of lacrosse is not better patronized by the "tone." Is it too low, vulgar, or what? Oh! yes, it must be; it is a game of the natives which to colonial bon-ton is simply detestable and intolerable. There was one uniform brass new too, and although it shone and glittered it failed to attract any of the fashionable moths. There wasn't much to attract anyway, and the attraction was thrown away.

The Major has seen and felt the new evening sheet, which has made its brilliant appearance. If anything it looks worse for having got up so late in the day, and although its typographical get up can't be seen, yet it may be felt, the type being in relievo, so that a blindman can read it. This latter is in itself a boon to our blind fellow citizens.

The churches were well attended Sunday, only seven women-kind to one of the male persuasion counted in one church. We were told, where the Major went, that Rehoboam and Jeroboam were mere instruments. That people had fortunes showered down on them, not on account of their own smartness or fitness, but for an object of divine agency. How the Major wishes he was only an agent of this kind. This may be learning, but at the same time it is wind. Now learning is nothing but words, and words being composed of wind, therefore learning is wind. THE TOWN MAJOR.

SPECIAL MEETING.

The City Council Meet to Consider the Sewerage By-Law.

A special meeting of the City Council was held in the Mayor's room last evening. Present: His Worship Mayor Grant, Ald. Styles, Vigelius, Kelly, Powell, Coughlan and Harris.

For over an hour the Mayor and Council examined the plans drawn up by Messrs. Pickering and Compton.

A discussion arose regarding the question of letting the work by contract.

Ald. Vigelius said he favored day labor being engaged on the work.

Ald. Styles also thought after the contract on James Bay bridge the city would do better to do the work by day labor.

Ald. Powell moved, seconded by Ald. Vigelius, that the plans prepared by Pickering and Compton be adopted. Carried.

Ald. Coughlan moved that the work be let by contract in sections of 500 feet. Seconded by Ald. Powell.

Ald. Kelly moved in amendment that the work be done by day labor. Seconded by Ald. Vigelius.

The amendment was lost on the following division: For the amendment—Ald. Kelly, Vigelius and Styles. Against—Ald. Harris, Powell and Coughlan.

His Worship gave his casting vote in favor of the original motion stating that he considered it would be the desire of ratepayers to have the work done by contract.

Ald. Harris moved that each tender be accompanied by an accepted bank cheque for 10 per cent. of the amount of his tender. Seconded by Ald. Powell and carried.

It was decided to leave the details in the hands of the Sewerage Committee and City Surveyor.

The Council then adjourned.

A NEW MISSION.

To Be Established Among the Chinese in British Columbia.

The General Foreign Mission Committee at its meeting in Halifax had before it a memorial from the Presbytery of Columbia with regard to the Chinese and Indians in British Columbia and the need for mission work among them.

The memorial says "There are at least 8000 Chinese in the province, 2500 of these reside in Victoria, about 1000 in New Westminster, and the remainder are to be found in Nanaimo, Vancouver and all along the Pacific section of the C. P. R. The whole of the Chinese population with a very few exceptions hail from the same province and speak the same dialect. Many of them remain here till they die, but all of them look forward to returning to China when they have sufficient to make them comfortable in their native land."

"They are uniformly industrious and many of them have achieved a high degree of prosperity, though of course they have among them the same mixture of worthy and worthless to be found among all nationalities.

"They are largely engaged in domestic service and in laundry work, but are also to be found in the ranks of skilled laborers and in factories and public works.

"They are acknowledged to be indispensible in the present condition of the Province but there is a deep rooted prejudice existing against them which is constantly displaying itself in public protests against their cheap labor, public agitation for legislation against them, and by private acts of injustice perpetrated with impunity against the hated race.

"Very little has yet been done in the way of reaching them with the gospel, first, because the prejudice above referred to is shared by the professing Christians in the Province, and second because the churches have not been sufficiently strong to undertake any great financial burden in carrying on such work.

"In view of the above facts it is time the reproach should be taken away from us of neglecting the Chinese at our own door, while spending thousands in sending missionaries to China, and there is a wide and effectual door opened for us to enter earnestly upon this work at once.

"The Chinese in this Province are growing in numbers and in financial strength, and many earnest people may be found to help if the work is once fairly before them."

"The committee have considered the memorial of the Mission Committee of the Presbytery of Columbia, approves of the establishment of a mission among the Chinese immigrants on the Pacific Coast, and remits the whole matter to the Western Division to deal with as their judgment they may deem best."

AYER'S PILLS. Sugar-Coated Cathartic

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Ealing, Richmond, Va.

THE LABOR QUESTION

And How It Is Affected by the Chinese--An Ever-Present Grievance.

The Matter Viewed from a Utilitarian Standpoint--Does It Pay?

(Written for THE TIMES.)

Cheap labor as relating to the Chinese is a hackneyed subject. It has been before the public for so many years that whether a man be a student of passing events or not he must have formed some tolerably clear ideas of the situation. He must have made up his mind whether the Chinese as a class are desirable citizens, and he must have made up his mind whether the Occidentals are prepared to compete with them in the labor market. The public satisfied on these points it would not appear that further coaching is necessary to enable it to act intelligently in the matter. Viewing the matter in this light I have studiously forborne discussing the Chinese in any of their phases, whether

SOCIALLY, MORALLY OR INDUSTRIALLY.

The other day, however, a letter fell into my hands, being a plain statement of a practical business man, and while he tells us nothing new, it reveals the fact that not among laboring men alone is the "Chinese incubus" being felt. I take the liberty to reproduce his letter almost verbatim. He says:

"Regarding John Chinaman I don't know what the general feeling is, but mine is that of pent up disgust, comparable to the man who is watching the blue beetles eating up his vegetables. He fain would destroy them, but their numbers forbid the hope that such a thing is possible. Formerly, when white section men were employed on the railway, I used to sell them considerable grub and clothing, whereas in the case of the Chinese by whom they have been supplanted, I can sell nothing. The Chinese section men are furnished supplies by merchants of their own nationality. The ostensible wages of these section men are $1 per day, but I am told that all they really get is 85 cents, the remaining 15 cents being retained by

as the premium for furnishing work. In this respect I don't know that I should complain so long as the Chinese themselves are satisfied, but the question arises are they satisfied. Is not their position that of mere working machines—slaves in fact. Go to their shacks and the effect of this species of slavery is evident in their lack of spirit, and in their devotion to opium as a panacea for their ills. At the best the Chinamen is no worker in the sense that the white man works, but under the conditions just stated he performs the least possible amount of work he can. Out of a say six of them, there is not a day that one or more of them do not lay off, and whether this be the effect of laziness or opium, I leave those who pretend to be posted to decide. These Chinese it would appear cannot stand either heat or cold. During the recent heated term they nearly all of them abandoned work. And these are the man whom the railway company prefer to employ. The London Times speaks of the Chinese in Australia as desirable settlers. A pig's knowledge of Sunday is not regarded very profound; at least in the most Christian countries he is not included within the scope of Sunday laws. The London Times acquaintance with the Chinese question is not one whit superior to the pig's knowledge of Sunday. The and the English trade policy it would force upon the Australians a people their opposites in tastes, religion, morals and politics. And so it is with us. That commercial relations may not be disturbed our laboring population must suffer, and these depressed local trade must suffer as well. From the eastern States, from Ireland, England and Scotland thousands of men may be had to work on our railways and that to at reasonable wages, say from $1 25 to $1.50 per day. Why not people this country with this class of labor instead of the Chinese. What we want is a Dennis Kearny to lecture on the Chinese matter. Dennis was mocked and insulted, but he gained his point. Had it not been for him, the recent laws prohibiting the landing of Chinese laborers in the United States would never have been passed. J. J.

Somewhere in the fifties, though possibly earlier, an immigration enthusiast perpetrated a song the purport of which was an invitation to the people of the world to come and take up residences with "Uncle Sam." The chorus I will quote.

"Come along, come along, make no delay,
Come from every nation, come from every way.
Our lands they are broad enough don't be alarmed
Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm."

At that time, when Minnesota was still the hunting ground for the Sioux, when only Mexicans vaqueros rode over the Sacramento plains, and when in Oregon and British Columbia the Hudson Bay Company reigned absolute, the invitation to the people of the world was regarded sound doctrine. The people of the world responded to the invitation, and what with the quantity of land, the cheapness of it, the liberal and expansive policy of the governments of the United States and Canada in respect to railways, the course of empire has rolled westward with the proportions of a tidal wave. So far so good, and especially since these alien hordes for the most part have made good citizens. But in the invitation of the United States and Canada to the poor and oppressed of older civilisations, the harboring of a people who should retain their natural characteristics and instincts never was contemplated. It never was contemplated that a miniature Chinese empire would be instituted on the soil of this continent, nor was it imagined that the native working classes, brought up in plenty, their intellects and tastes broadened and sharpened by the public school, would be compelled to compete for a livelihood with the offscourings of the Orient. But all this has come to pass.

A CHINESE ORGANIZATION

an hundred thousand strong, is intrenched on the coast, its numbers usurping the industrial functions of a similar number of the native population. This organization is growing every day, and, what makes it all the more formidable, is that it is aided, abetted and encouraged by corporate interests. The Chinese, in fact, on this coast, may justly be regarded the Helots of capital. If these people were capable of amalgamation with the western races, or were they in sympathy with our institutions, their presence would be tolerable; but their Tartar blood, their religion, coupled with their inborn prejudices of caste, preclude their absorption by the body politic by intermarriage or reciprocity of sentiment. They are, and must ever remain, a distinct class, without sympathy for our institutions, and in the nature of the case parasitic, the Chinese cannot be regarded in any other light than a parasitic population, for having amassed whatever wealth they require they immediately return to the land of their birth. The European, whatever his nationality, loses his identity after a few generations and becomes thoroughly Americanized. I use the word Americanized as applying to

BOTH CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

The people of both these countries are descended of a common ancestry, and for all practical purposes the governmental policy is the same. Americanized, therefore, is not a distinguishing quality of the United States alone. The Chinese, however, fail to Americanize. After a residence of forty years on this coast, their habits have become in no wise modified. Whatever virtues they may have possessed in their native land none have been transferred to this continent, save plodding industry, whereas of their vices which have followed them we have a legion. The Chinese seem to lack the quality of plasticity. Shrewed heads they may possess, but they cannot catch on to the genius of our institutions, nor mould themselves into citizens, a feature inseparable to a republican form of govment. Is such a condition of things desirable? Can the most pronounced optimist regard the situation with equanimity? It seems hard that this country, which has so long held out inducements to the surplus population of foreign states should find itself compelled to modify its immigration laws. Self preservation, however, is

and the first duty of our country to at-land to the best interests of its working classes. The day is not far distant when we must decline to longer become the dumping grounds for the refuse of nations, and least of all should we tolerate the influence of a class with whom we are morally and politically incompatible. The time is coming when B. C will have to take hold of the Chinese question in an almost revolutionary spirit. Although it was well known in California that white labor could not compete with Chinese labor it was a matter of years, before Congress went to work and modified the then existing treaty with China by which immigrants from that country were prohibited for the period of a decade. The passage of the bill and its sanction by the President came none too soon. San Francisco was trembling on the verge of anarchy inspired by the latter day Jack Cade, Dennis Kearney. It is to be regretted that this grand movement in behalf of the interests of labor was not initiated by a better man than Dennis Kearney. He was too rank, and was actuated in great part by the

PROCLIVITY FOR ROWING.

Probably though he was the right man in the right place. Corporate interests as a rule only bend to violence, and it was the violence of the "land lotters" that they feared. In the instance of Dennis Kearney we have a man who forced politicians into a constitutional procedure against Chinese immigration by threats of riot and rapine. It is not desirable, perhaps, that since this province is still in a nauseous state and offering opportunities for men to engage in robust pursuits, such as stockraising, farming and mining that the natives to the "manor born," should become domestics, that is to say cooks, laundrymen, &c. These occupations are emphatically minial, affording small honor and little or no profit. Still these avenues of labor should be left open to our own kind. We cannot afford to debase our working population for the mere matter of wages. To sift the question down fine this persistent employment of Chinese on public works looks like to depress the wages of white labor. It is a well known fact that the Chinese cannot endure intense heat or cold in comparison with the white man, and it is also equally well understood that his capacity for labor is fully one-third less than the Anglo Saxon, if not more. Wherefore employ these creatures, then, if white labor may be had at proportionately higher wages. The animus of capital plainly is to force white labor to its own terms. If we cannot get along without Chinamen for domestics very well, but in Leariger labors, the peculiar province of the robust Saxon, let him be protected. It looks slightly supererogatory to discuss the Chinese from a moral standpoint. We should pluck the beam from our own eyes before we proceed to eliminate the mote from John's. Nevertheless, morally delinquent as we are, we do not traffic in women, nor do our drinking habits induce common to the use of opium. So far as the Chinese are concerned themselves it matters little whether the law can reach them or not with reference to these practices. The example, however, is pernicious. It exerts a certain corrupting influence, and since the Chinese cannot be metamorphised either into British or American subjects, but prefer retaining their nationality, leading lives alike dubious to themselves and contaminating to others, and governing themselves according to their own sweet wills, we find them especially undesirable and must deprecate any movement which tends to tighten their grip on the industrial features of the country.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word. Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its' cures are marvelous.

Lost and Found.

A little child strayed away from its mother, Mrs. B. H. John, when at Ferguson's book store to-day, and was found down in Chinatown some time after, having toddled thither all alone. It is needless to say the mother rejoiced to learn that the lost had been found.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MAN'S INHUMANITY.

A Horse Almost Driven to Death in the Streets of Victoria.

On Sunday afternoon two men known as L. Peterson and Fifteen Charlie applied at Messrs. Jones & McNeill's stable of Johnson street, for a horse and buggy. The stable man informed them that every "rig" was engaged. They left and returned at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when they hired a fine bay mare and buggy. For some hours they drove around the city, calling at numerous saloons and imbibing very freely in intoxicants. About 6 o'clock the stableman went to a cabin on Chatham street to visit a sick man and noticed two buggies belonging to his stable tied up at a cabin door. Hearing the men talking very loudly in the place and knowing that they were intoxicated, the stableman decided to take one of the horses away and return for the other. On returning for the second horse he saw the two men, Peterson and Fifteen-Charlie, standing on the sidewalk. They immediately jumped into the buggy and started away. The stableman took hold of the buggy but was compelled to let go. The men drove around town at a most furious pace and passed up Johnson street in front of Jones and McNeill's stable. The horse tried to enter the place, but was turned up the street and went out of sight in a few minutes. Mr. Jones immediately ran to the police station and informed the police. He then jumped into a buggy and started after the men, whilst his partner started out on horseback. After searching around the city for some time they found the horse and buggy on Cook street. Blood was streaming from the animal's nose and mouth and it was covered with sweat. The men were gone and left the poor beast in the middle of the street. It was taken to a stable near by and is in a dying condition. The police started out at 3 o'clock to hunt the men up. They took the right side of Johnson street whilst the men were drinking in a saloon on the left side of the street. Someone must have informed them that the police were looking for them for they dodged through an alley and disappeared. After procuring a bottle of whiskey and some provisions the men went aboard a sloop owned by Peterson and left for the American side. The two men arrived on the last steamer from Skeena River where they fished for the canneries. It is a shame to allow reckless driving of this kind on our streets, besides the injuries to the animal and the danger to life and limb of people on the streets was very great.

Mr. Fell's Suggestion.

When it was suggested at the meeting of the committee yesterday, that the yeas and nays be taken on the vote in reference to the hospital site, ex-Mayor Fell proposed that the names be engrossed on parchment, framed and hung up in the Jubilee hospital so that future generations might know who were the parties instrumental in locating the hospital in such a beautiful and salubrious location.

Runaways.

A young man named Copeland hired a buggy from the Transfer Company on Monday and had a runaway. He returned to the city last evening with the horse, four wheels and the seat tied to the main reach.

A horse attached to a milk wagon ran away on Humboldt street yesterday afternoon. The only damage done was the spilling of the fluid and the loss of a couple of cans. The horse was stopped near the White Horse saloon.

Presbyterian Church Meeting.

A public meeting was held at the residence of J. McKee, Esq., Sr., pursuant to notice for the purpose of deciding on a site whereon to erect a Presbyterian Church. J. McKee, Esq., Sr., was voted to the chair, and J. McKee, Jr., appointed secretary. After considerable discussion it was decided by a vote that the church should be built at the junction of the road between section 2 and 3, township 4, and main trunk road. The meeting then adjourned.

Bay View, Delta, Aug. 4, 1888.

The New Secretary.

Mr. F. W. Teague, of Springfield, Mass., who has been appointed secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in this city, arrived at Vancouver yesterday and will reach here this evening by the Yosemite. Mr. Teague has taken an eighteen months' course in the training school, which specially prepares young men for this work, and comes with the very highest recommendations. The work of the association, it is expected, will go ahead rapidly under his leadership and become here, what it is elsewhere, one of the greatest agencies for good in the world.

A Valuable Invention.

Mr. John Patterson, of Kamloops who held the position of chief engineer on the Mara line of boats in 1885-6, and has been for some time employed by the C. P. N. Co. as chief superintendent of engines on that line, has recently patented an instrument to be used upon steam engines to gauge or test their several parts in their operation. It places in the hands of engineers, engine builders, and others a correct and speedy method of testing and adjusting the crank shafts. The application of the instrument will show the slightest variation of the shaft from the rectangular path of the piston's travel, and at the same time point out the slightest variation of the shaft from a true level.

Confusion Worse Confounded.

Says the Ottawa Free Press: Lieut.-General Middleton will go to British Columbia in the course of a month or six. It is said that he will endeavor to remedy the blundering of the militia authorities in regard to the plans for the barracks for C Battery at Victoria. As first proposed the plans provided for buildings of an elaborate character, including mess and recreation rooms and a fine barrack square. All this, however, is to be abandoned. The soldiers are to be crowded into two huts and the married officers into the third hut which they will divide with the kitchen. It is said that each officer is to have a 10 foot room for his accomodation which some of the militia officers describe as ridiculous.

MINING ON THE YUKON.

Cases of Scurvy—Archbishop Seghers Body—Price of Provisions.

A part of an interview with Mr. D. H. McNeill, one of the party who left with Wm. Ogelvie to survey the northern country on behalf of the Dominion Government, was published in last evening's issue of THE TIMES.

In addition to the information already published Mr. McNeill informs THE TIMES that last winter was one of the mildest experienced in the north for several years. The lowest the mercury fell was 58 degrees below zero. When Ogelvie left camp on the 3rd of March it was his intention to ascend the Sheep and Porcupine rivers, then over a small range of mountains into the Peel river which empties into the Mackenzie. After making surveys of the latter he will, as stated in yesterday's issue, cross the country to Winnipeg. The mining carried on along the Yukon is done in this wise. The river freezes to a great depth, and on the banks and bars the ice is generally solid to the bottom. The miners cut away the ice and then dig up the gravel, which is also frozen and, and carry it on to the banks. This process is continued till the river breaks up for a couple of months, when the dirt is carried back again and washed for the gold. In this way, says the informant, one man took out a thousand dollars; but it was hard work. The gold is principally coarse, the largest nugget taken out being valued at $40. This nugget, it may be stated, was lost, the discoverer being drowned a short time after he found it. His name was Michael Sufferin, a native of New Brunswick or Ontario. He is believed to have been well known in Victoria. Mr. McNeill has samples of the Yukon gold with him. Provisions are pretty dear. Flour is $17.50 per 100 lbs, bacon 40 cents per lb., beans 30 cents, sugar 30 cents, dried apples 30 cents, all of which there is a fair supply. During the winter there were 36 cases of scurvy among the miners and three deaths occurred. The Indians on the Yukon are peaceable and willing to work. When Archbishop Seghers left Archbishop Seghers body was being prepared for transportation to Victoria by one of the American cutter. At St. Michael's on the journey down four nun's were met on their way to the Yukon to start an Indian mission.

Miss Ackerman's lecture in the Methodist Church last evening was largely attended and listened to with the greatest interest. This evening she speaks again, and to-morrow evening "San Francisco by Gaslight" will be the subject. As this comes pretty near home to many Victorians, it is sure to draw a large audience.

THE MENZIES' CASE.

The Little Girl Tells How She Was Married by the Prof. to Ah Chee.

Two Witnesses for the Defence—One Case Closed---Court Considering Opinion.

At 11:25 o'clock this morning the Menzies case was called in the police court. Amongst those present were Rev. J. E. Starr and Miss Leake.

Mr. Gannaway appeared for Menzies and Mr. Taylor for the prosecution.

Ah Lin, the Chinese girl, was first placed in the witness box and was sworn in the ordinary way. She said: My name is Ah Lin; I know Mr. Menzies and Ah Chee; first met Menzies at Mrs Fowler's; Menzies took her to Mrs Crawford's; knew him before. When Ah Chee came around to sell things Menzies said she must marry him or they would whip her; Menzies talked a good many times and after three months he made her go to Ah Chee's place; stayed at Mrs. Crawford's place longer than at Mrs. Fowler's; went to Ah Chee's house in a wagon with Mrs. Crawford, Menzies and Ah Chee. The whole four were in the wagon; we started from Mrs. Crawford's place and went to Ah Chee's; I told myself that I was married to Ah Chee; Menzies and Mrs. Crawford told me that I was married to Ah Chee.

Mr. Gannaway contended that the evidence of the witness was irrelevant. They were not married according to the English custom, but the marriage was according to the Chinese custom. There are numerous Chinese in Chinstown who had the utmost contempt for the English marriage law.

Ah Lin continued—When they drove away they told me that if I did not like Ah Chee I could come back; the woman, Mrs. Crawford and Menzies told witness she was married to Ah Chee and if she did not like him she could come back; saw Ah Chee give some money to Menzies.

To Mr. Gannaway—I have been in Victoria for four years; was twelve years old when she came from China; I am about fourteen years old now; spent four weeks in Ah Chee's house; was sewing at Ah Chee's house during his absence; locked the door on the inside whilst Ah Chee was away selling vegetables; I did not like Ah Chee; knew where the Chinese Home was; there was no one in the house with me but people lived next door. Ah Chee would go out in the morning and would return for his meals; did not know the way to the home. Knew Mrs. Fowler; she was not extra good to me; Mrs. Fowler was in charge of the home; when I ran away from the home I went to Mrs. Fowler's house; the weather was very cold; I did not have much clothes; Mrs. Hopkins is related to Menzies; Gardner took me to Mrs Hopkins from Chinatown; was a long time ago. After leaving Mrs Fowler's Menzies took me to Mrs Hopkins; I slept in the same house with Ah Chee; would not let him touch me. Ah Chee was not extra kind; he did not like me and when I did not work he scolded me; I remember going to the Supreme Court and remember telling a man there that Ah Chee gave me some clothes.

His Honor said he would like to know something about the history of the girl.

Mr Taylor said the girl was taken from a house of prostitution and placed in the home.

To His Honor—A police officer first took me from Chinatown and placed me in gaol; there was no home and I was taken to a white man's house; after that was taken to Mrs Hopkins' house; after leaving Mrs Hopkins went to Mrs. Fowler's.

Mr. Taylor—I have the correct history of the girl. She was taken from a house of prostitution and was handed over in the police court to Mr. Gardner; he placed her in a house in care of Mrs Fowler; Mrs. Hopkins was placed in charge of the Home; on finding out the relationship between Menzies and Mrs. Hopkins, Miss Leak took charge of the Home about two weeks after the girl ran away.

To His Honor—The reason why Menzies did not take me back to the Home was because he sold one girl already and wanted to sell me; we did not intend to run away from the Home; went with another girl to see Mrs Fowler; Menzies took us from Mrs Fowler's place to Mrs Hopkin's house; Mrs Fowler induced me to go to Mrs Hopkin's house, because Mrs Fowler said I would be whipped if I went back to the Home; I was for four months at Mrs Crawford's; worked there, scrubbing and cooking; Mrs Crawford has a daughter; never received any wages; Menzies paid Mrs Crawford for my board; Menzies came to Mrs Crawford's at different times; after his wife went to San Francisco Menzies came to Mrs. Crawford's and lived there; he then took away a Chinese girl and was away selling her; he came back; on the Monday after the paper marriage license was brought back the money was paid and I was taken to Ah Chee's house.

The evidence was read over to Ah Lin and the case adjourned until 2:30 this afternoon.

On resuming the evidence of Miss Fowler and Mr. Cohen was heard for the defence, but we have to withhold it to-day. At 4 p. m. the case was closed and the counsel began addressing the court reviewing the evidence that had been taken.

His Honor decided to take the depositions home and will decide to-morrow morning whether the case will be sent to the Assizes or not.

Goldenson's Fits.

Since the death sentence was passed on the murderer Alex Goldenson, he has his "ugly fits" again, as the guards call his display of temper. He is cross and insulting, and curses everybody who comes in contact with him. He is no longer allowed to receive the dainties prepared by his mother or the fruit and canned goods that are sent in to him by his lady admirers, and he has positively refused to eat jail fare. He is dieted on eggs and whiskey and quinine.

The Medium Colby.

Ex-Mayor Fell requests us to state that the article in the Colonist of Sunday about a man named Baines, alias Colby, who was represented to be a medium, a gambler, train robber, &c., is not Mr. Colby, the spiritual medium who is well known in Victoria. The latter gentleman is in the east. The telegram copied by the Colonist did not name Victoria as one of the places visited by the "versatile villain," and to connect the two our contemporary introduced the name of this city.

Left for San Francisco.

Madame de la Mothe left this morning for San Francisco to remain there permanently. The Madame, who is a music teacher and a vocalist of considerable celebrity has not received sufficient financial support to meet her business engagements, and unfortunately has been compelled to leave a few creditors—whose claims probably amount in all to $1000—in Victoria. The lady's talents will no doubt have a larger field in San Francisco, and her many friends here believe that she will in a short time be able to meet all her obligations

FROM THE YUKON.

Deaths from Scurvy---Prospectors Hopeful--Cost of Provisions.

Mr. L. N. McQuesten, of Forty-Mile creek on the Yukon, Alaska, writes as follows:

There have been about 20 cases of scurvy here this winter, and three deaths since last October. The first that died was Richard Welch, well known around Juneau City. He died about the 22nd of December, 1887. Anthony Holmes came next, and Irvin Masters died January 18. He was a native of Pennsylvania.

There were about 160 men wintering in this vicinity, but they have all left for their claims. There are about 122 men gone up Forty-Mile Creek and a few gone up to Stewart River, about 120 miles above here.

There is very little sluicing done here yet. They are all using the primitive rocker, yet they have made from $7 to $40 per day. The small creeks have been very little prospected as yet. Good prospects have been found over 120 miles up this creek. The largest gold nugget that has been found weighed over $40.

The cream of the surface diggings that have been found has been taken out. Those that want a big thing in that country will have to prospect and find it. The great drawback to this country is the ground being frozen up. It takes money and labor to prospect.

The most of the miners are in good spirits, and say they will stick to the country till they find it.

We have had a very mild winter, the mildest we have had in the last 14 years. The 23rd of December was the coldest we had it—55 degrees below zero. Since the holidays we have had an abundance of fresh meat, enough to supply all the men in the camp, at 10 cents per pound.

We have had plenty of provisions, such as they are. Not a great assortment, but enough for all that stayed here. Of the staples the prices are: Flour, from $14 to $17.50; beans, 20c; rice, oatmeal, etc., 25c; sugar, 30c; bacon, 40c; butter, 75c; and other things in proportion.

"The Evening Standard."

A bright, breezy, newsy evening paper made its appearance on the streets last evening with the above title which promises to become popular with Victoria's reading public. In every line, editorial, telegraphic, news, it more than does credit to the acknowledged ability of the gentlemen connected with it. Its mechanical appearance is all that is claimed for it, its fine, clear-cut type, making its perusal a pleasing duty. Its leading articles have the true ring about them—sincerity, truthfulness and ability—and we bespeak for the new comer a full measure of the people's patronage.—Colonist.

Gentle public, you see how the cat jumps now, if you didn't before. "The bright, breezy, newsy" as you have observed is merely the ghost of the old mummy that used to come out of the alley in the night time. It's first page is a tolerably respectable exhibition but the fourth looks as if the type had crawled in there and laid down on top of one another. Some think it is a Chinese puzzle and intended to interest the numerous readers on lower Fisguard and Cormorant streets. The real trouble, however, is the same old type turned inside out, like you would invert the sides of an old garment, and is emblematic of the political evolution of the editor since the government silver was jingled at his ear. It has introduced an innovation in the art of typography in newspaperdom, by pressing the type far into the paper and producing raised letters. It will be seen that with a keen sense of touch that sight is not an essential in reading it. So far as its platform and policy is concerned they cousist of this: "We will be a faithful echo of the Colonist while we live, so help me Bob—Hon. Bob. or any other Bob." As for the syndicate it, as everyone knows, is composed of Messrs. DeCosmos, Smith & Co, but for short and for the sake of euphony you may call it "Smith." "Only that and nothing more."
